

Dairy Herd Field Technician

Lancaster Dairy Herd Improvement Association (Lancaster DHIA), also known as Vermont DHIA, provides milk testing, lab testing and on-farm field services in the mid-Atlantic and Northeastern US. We are passionate about our mission to help our members and the agriculture community prosper while promoting a safe and abundant food supply. Our core values are teamwork, integrity, the golden rule, pride, and innovation. To learn more, please visit our website at www.lancasterdhia.com.

We are seeking a Dairy Herd Field Technician to join our team. Dairy Herd Field Technicians perform the following job duties:

- Collect milk samples from member dairy farmers in their assigned region;
- Provide great customer service support to dairy farmers;
- Arrange for transportation of milk samples to our testing lab;
- Provide accurate and reliable recordkeeping services; and
- Connect with new farmers to grow their region.

This position services the Northeast area of Vermont and Northwest area of New Hampshire and is part-time. There is room to grow in responsibility and compensation. Incumbents must provide their own transportation (there is mileage reimbursement).

We are seeking candidates with the following experience and skills:

- Interpersonal and relationship building skills;
- Customer service skills;
- Willingness to learn our business;
- Strong work ethic and dependability;
- Self-starters with high initiative;
- Ability to work independently;
- Valid driver's license with good driving record; and
- Experience with dairy farming is a plus.

In a teamwork environment, Lancaster DHIA offers opportunities to serve the farming community, a competitive compensation plus local and regional travel. To apply, submit your resume to hr@lancasterdhia.com.
